Diane McKnight

Department of Civil, Environmental and Architectural Engineering, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309 phone (303) 492-4687; fax (303) 492-6388 diane.mcknight@colorado.edu

Professional experience:

Research hydrologist, National Research Program, U. S. Geological Survey, 1979-1996 Professor of Civil, Environmental and Architectural Engineering, University of Colorado, 1996-present

Fellow of INSTAAR, University of Colorado, 1996-present Co-director Hydrologic Sciences Graduate program

Areas of Interest and Expertise: limnologist and environmental engineer; aquatic ecology of algae in lakes and streams and biogeochemical studies of natural organic material and trace metals in freshwater systems; field research is conducted in alpine and polar environments, including the McMurdo Dry Valleys of Antarctica. Chair of the Editorial committee and author of a book in the Schoolyard book series for the Long Term Ecological Research Network.

Scientific society service: Past-president of the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography, founding editor of Journal of Geophysical Research-Biogeosciences.

Honors and Awards:

- 2012, National Academy of Engineering, member
- 2009, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Fellow
- 2008, Honorary Chair, Humic Sciences and Technology Conference XI
- 2005, American Geophysical Union, Hydrology Section, Langbein Lecturer

2003, American Geophysical Union, Fellow

1995, USGS, Meritorious Service Award